Putting the Harmony Commercial Music & Digital Signage system to work for you.

Waiting room and office demos Education while they wait

The screens in your office are an opportunity to reach out to your patients. Show them the benefits of proper dental hygiene or proper diet and exercise with full motion video while they wait in your waiting room. Highlight the benefits of an elective service they might not have considered. Walk them through the steps of specific procedures with custom video presentations in your office.

The Harmony system brings a synergy of options to the table, from the ability to show light information like weather and time to the more sophisticated blends of animation and full motion video once available only through expensive and confusing software packages best left to professionals. Harmony makes comforting and education your patience as easy as building a PowerPoint.

The same box that brings video to your waiting room can also pipe in the music. Create the kind of ambience you know you would want to experience if you were the patient. Fully customizable music and playlists let you set the tone.

Turn what was once just a coffee table of magazines into a chance to connect with your patient and put their mind at ease.
